

Pastoral Notes

“I Won’t Let Go”- Genesis 32: 22-28.

Who or what are you wrestling with in your life? Sometimes our biggest opponent is ourselves. We wrestle between our moral conscience and mortal flesh -- ultimately, this can result in our wrestling with God.

You should never underestimate the

on to God, trusting, and never letting go.

As ludicrous as it may sound, Jacob wrestled with God and won. We learned, however, he did not prevail due to his flesh, he prevailed due to his FAITH. He would not be shaken and would not let go of his faith that God would deliver him. That same God will deliver you if you

Key Sermonic Points

1. You must encounter God for yourself and by yourself.
2. Hold on until you get your breakthrough.
3. A strong faith can overcome a weak flesh.
4. Once you have a personal encounter with God, your life will never be the same.

depth of God’s grace nor the power of your faith. If you never let go of God, he will never let go of you even though you may be hanging on by a thread. Extreme circumstances, however, require extreme measures, so when you are truly in need, be willing to go through extreme measures to obtain it. This includes holding don’t let go.

Nuggets:

- Victory is promised to those whose trust is in the Lord, who grab hold of him in their heart and never ever let go
- If you ever get to the point in your life you feel you are about to lose your grip and are merely hanging on by a thread, pray for the strength to hold on.
- If you want a change in your life and want to be blessed of God, you must have a personal encounter with him.
- Jesus came so that you can have an abundant life and not a defeated life.
- If you need a break, change or blessing, hold onto God’s words, teachings and his promises.

“ Don’t succumb to the darkness. Remember that God does his best work in the midnight hours. The breaking of the dawn is when you’ll see your breakthrough.”
